The Top Eight Teams in the Country are Going to the Big Dance!

NCBBA National Championships Begin April 7th!

After a hard fought season and Regional Championship weekend, eight teams have punched their tickets to the National Championship in Cleveland, OH April 7th-9th at Notre Dame College:

University of South Carolina

Michigan State University

St. John's University

The Ohio State University

University of Pittsburgh

Purdue University

Southern Illinois University - Carbondale

University of Massachusetts - Lowell

First game tips off at 12pm on Friday the 7th with the Championship game happening Sunday the 9th at noon. During the weekend, there will be a skills competition and the first annual NCBBA All-Star game before bracket play resumes on Saturday. Eighth seeded UMass Lowell says, "This 2016-2017 season, was one of the toughest seasons the UMass Lowell Men's Basketball Club has ever had to endure. Fighting through injuries, arguing about lack of participation at practice, screaming at each other because we have a hard time handling our emotions, and not forgetting to mention trying to work on some relationship issues, it seemed like we were never going to get our "stuff" together. However, we made it through as one unit. The one thing you have to understand about our team is that no matter who we are up against on the court, we will give you the work." Rob Bell, coach of the University of Pittsburgh has this to say about his 5th seeded championship-bound team: "I can't speak highly enough to the dedication and passion each of my players have shown, and it's that attitude that will make us successful into the future. Only one goal left for the season and that is to bring back home to Pittsburgh the national championship. H2P!"

It's going to be an exciting weekend and the NCBBA cannot wait to see all the teams there battling it out for the National Championship title!
